

●Dry Natto, 100% made in Japan

Japanese Natto is drawing worldwide attention. Natto is a fermented soybean which has been eaten as healthy food since old times in Japan.

Foreigners may not like it because of

- Unfamiliar smell
- Stringy appearance and sticky texture

Of course some Japanese have difficulty with it, too.

So we developed “Dry Natto” by making it fried to reduce the smell and stickiness and be able to eat like a snack.

Since we started to sell “Dry Natto”,

we have received delightful comments such as

- I don't like natto, but I can eat Dry Natto!
- It was not easy to eat natto every day, but I can easily continue to eat Dry Natto like a snack.

Anyone who likes natto and who doesn't like natto, both can enjoy eating it.

We started with soy sauce flavor and added salt, chili and wasabi flavors as a new line.

How about co-developing new flavor with us to meet the taste of your people?

First of all, please try Tako's hit product, soy sauce flavor.
